Pastor Doodle May 2010

It's hard to believe that it was only seven years ago that we ago that we pulled the big U-Haul truck up under the big oak tree out in front of the parsonage and started unloading furniture and boxes. It was hard to say goodbye to the folks who had become our family for the last 5 years and scary to wonder how we would fit in on the other side of the Pascagoula River. We made at least 2 mistakes that day. One we were supposed to alert Lila when we got in so the welcoming party could greet us and we didn't. The other was that Pattie had convinced herself that the parsonage was covered with that lovely brown siding that is on the shed, she was relieved to discover her mistake.

I still remember when the Staff Parish Committee showed us around the church and when I saw the showers in the bathrooms upstairs I said to myself, "Good if we have a hurricane while we are here we can house a few volunteers." I think God must have snickered a bit when that thought crossed my mind.

We shouldn't have worried if we would fit in. You adopted us so readily into your lives; we have loved together; we have argued together; we have faced one of the worst natural disasters the world has known together; we have grown together. We have become closer than family. Saying goodbye will not be easy. Change never is easy, but it is how we grow. Anything that is not changing is dying. Growth pains hurt, but not nearly as bad as arthritis.

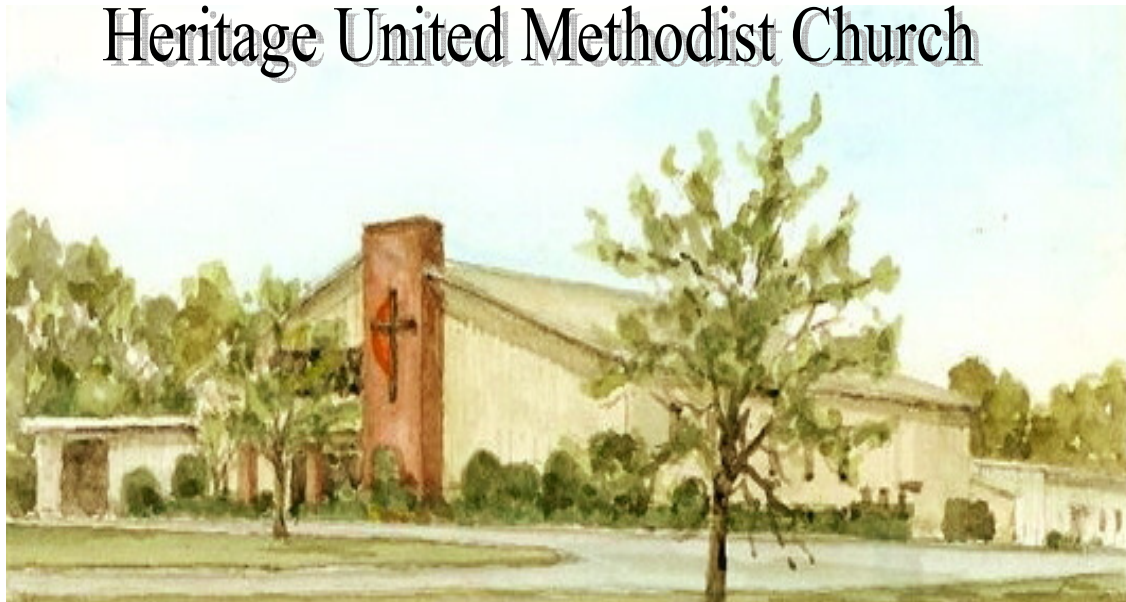

One of the most frightening moments in my time at Heritage was that first 8:30 service when the first hymn was sung and the only voice I could hear was my own. We have come a long way. It is wonderful now to listen to the fullness of the voices singing God's praise in our worship, keep up the good work.

"At the intersection of God's Grace, and Your Needs"

I have a confession to make. Many of you have said very flattering things about my ministry here and I appreciate that, but the truth of the matter is that I have taken a page from a book by Mark Twain and pulled a Tom Sawyer on you. Do you remember the story of “The White-Washed Fence?” Tom was given one of his least favorite jobs to do, white-washing the fence. To make matters worse a bunch of his friends gathered round to witness the indignity. Tom struck upon an idea. He started making the job look like fun and soon he was charging his friends to take their turn at the brush. The fence got painted and Tom’s pockets were filled with all sorts of goodies. You are the ones that have painted this fence. You have stepped up to roles of leadership and have made my work here easy. After leaving my first appointment as a pastor I realized that I had not done the church a favor. Sure we did a lot of things while we were there, but most of them were David driven. When I left, so did much of the progress we had made. I don’t worry about that happening here. You are already the ones responsible for all the progress we have made.

One of my favorite roadside signs read, CHANGE IS GOOD in big bold letters and at the bottom in small letters was printed, You go first. As we face these last days together just keep in mind, CHANGE IS GOOD, only this time we go first.

Love God. Love Others. And Keep Living out the Love.

Bro. David
